Virginia in her climate, soil, vegetable, animal, and mineral productions, claims to be unsurpassed by any other country, but she gives no of-ficial guarantee of the truth of such claims. What little has been published about her resoources, is lost in scattered and detached papers. When one wishes to know something about the resources of the State, he must come and travel over the country, losing time and spending money. Need we say that the capitalist cannot afford to do this?

Now, the question is, what must be done to remedy this?

About the year 1835 the Legislature appoint.

tainments. Notwithstanding the fact that these men had to work in entirely unexplored ground, and were cramped by the smallness of the sum appropriated, and by the indifference of the people, much work was done, and even in that limited time discoveries valuable to the agricultural interests of the country were made. Reports were published in detached form, but never afterwards collected into book form. The result was that the work ceased from want of support, and there now exists nowhere. in a combined form, any record of what was done. Hence Virginia, the oldest of the States in the Union, is at this day compelled, with shame, to admit that less is known of her natural productions than of those of the youngest territory

A complete physical history of the State. From the country. Here one could go, and at a glance see before him specimens of every thing of interest or YANNEY&CO him specimens of every thing of interest or technical value to be found in the State. It was his desire also to establish a laboratory, where could be examined the marls, limestones, &c... in which the State abounds, and in whose desired to the state abounds. The state abounds are in whose desired to the state abounds. in which the State abounds, and in whose development agricultural interests have so much

Such an establishment would form a nucleus for farther collections, such as of specimens of manufactured articles, models of machinery. &c., where the mechanic and artisan could repair, and study to improve his productions. Such establishments are to be found in all the principal cities of Europe, and are valued highly as means of improving the tastes and skill of the working classes. Now, cannot we at least make a commence ment of such an establishment? The cost would seventy six plates of metal, cast from twelve hundred guns taken from the Austrians and Prussians. From a height of one hundred and forty feet the effigy in bronze of the great modern conqueror looked down upon the city at its feet, and from base to capital were twined in alto relievo representations of the triumphs and achievements of the campaign of 1805 and Austerlitz. In the reaction of the first Bourbon return, in 1814, this statue of the conqueror was removed, and one of Henri of Navarre substituted, but when Louis Phillippe, the citizen king reigned, another statue of Napoleon, cast from the cannon of Algiers, taken in 1830, dressed with the historical great coat and cocked hat, was again elevated, and the old hero of Navarre removed to one of the bridges over the Seine. It is this, the bronze record of former victories over their late conquerors-it is this, east from the guns of Algeria, now escaping from her grasp, which Paris has destroyed.

returns now coming in, reveal some of the losses (not all) that the Southern States suffered in consequence of the war. A few of the States are reported as follows:

"Kentucky losses 104 millions, or about 20 per cent; Mississippi losses 355 millions, or seven-tenths; Tennessee losses 69 millions, or nearly 20 per cent; Florida losses 36 millions, or more than one-half; South Carolina losses 326 millions, or nearly two-thirds; Virginia losses 186 millions, or nearly two-sevenths.

The aggregate loss is said to be 1,200 millions, but this estimate falls far short of the total loss sustained by the Southern States as the result of the war. But if, when peace came, the Government had permitted those States to repair the waste that had been wrought, their condition would be very different to-day .- Lynchburg Virginian.

MEDICAL.

Baltimore Lock Hospital

DR. JOHNSTON,

Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the world for all DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspdpeia, Languer, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Thront, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the songs of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.

Especially, who have become the Victims of Solitary Vice, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senatos with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to extacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE. Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness (Loss of Procreative Power-Impotency,) Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentlemay religiously confide in his honor as a gentle-man, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS. Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This distressing Affection—which renders life misgrable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are last scener, by these fell. understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-time sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this herrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight. pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at less the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country 'from whence no traveller returns.'

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRETENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the consitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious of injurious compounds, and instead of being re-
